

Gardening: A Simple Guide

Gardening is the practice of growing and cultivating plants such as flowers, vegetables, herbs, and fruits. It is both a relaxing hobby and a productive activity that helps improve physical health, mental well-being, and the environment.

- Choose the Right Location: Most plants need 6–8 hours of sunlight each day.
- Prepare Good Soil: Healthy soil with compost provides nutrients for plants.
- Water Properly: Water plants early in the morning or evening to reduce evaporation.
- Select Suitable Plants: Pick plants that grow well in your climate and season.
- Use Natural Fertilizers: Compost, manure, and organic fertilizers improve soil health.
- Control Pests Naturally: Neem oil, companion planting, and regular inspection help protect plants.
- Be Consistent: Regular care such as watering, pruning, and removing weeds keeps plants healthy.

Benefits of Gardening: Gardening reduces stress, encourages physical activity, improves air quality, and allows people to grow fresh, healthy food at home. Even a small balcony garden can provide herbs and flowers while making the space greener.
